

Westford 2000 – Sports Respect

www.westford.com/peaceable

SPORTS RESPECT

Two Forums for Parents, Youth and Coaches

Session I: Bob Bigelow NBA 1st Round Draft Choice

Tuesday, May 15, 2001

7 – 9 PM

Blanchard Middle School Auditorium

Bob is a nationally known speaker on the needs of children in sports. His mission is to put youth back into youth sports. Bob's talk will be followed by Kimball's "make your own" sundaes and conversation. The event will focus on questions like: Why do we play sports? What does success in sports mean? What gets in the way?

Session II: George Mumford Special Coach to the Chicago Bulls

Tuesday, June 5, 2001

Refreshments 7 PM

Program 7:30 – 9 PM

Blanchard Middle School

George is a sports psychologist who works with the Chicago Bulls, the Los Angeles Lakers and Boston College Men's Basketball. He is featured in the book Sacred Hoops by the Bulls Coach, Phil Jackson, and most recently in the May edition of Oprah Winfrey's "O" magazine. George's talk will be followed by small discussion groups on the role of winning, team building, violence prevention, and nutrition as it pertains to the young athlete.

Raffle drawing for prizes at both events!

Presented by Westford 2000 – A Peaceable Community. These events continue the Peaceable Community mission to support a community-wide conversation on ways Westford residents can demonstrate more respect for people and the environment.

Funded by a grant from the Greater Lowell Community Health Network

Supported by the Blanchard Middle School PTO, the Westford Recreation Department, and the Westford Board of Health

Westford 2000 – A Peaceable Community

